Dr. Butler earned four degrees from MSU; a BA in English Literature, an MA in Organizational Communication, an MA in Educational Psychology, and a PhD in Telecommunication. Since 1994, she has been teaching at MSU in various departments on campus.

In addition to her work at VIPP, she serves as an adjunct professor in the Eli Broad College of Business. She has taught courses focus on business, technology, and globalization. Prior to teaching at MSU, she was a professional in the IT world, where she specialized in developing business solutions through the use of new technologies. At General Motors/Electronic Data Systems, she evaluated, designed and implemented computing solutions in manufacturing and was involved in many aspects of supply chain management, purchasing, and quality control.

Dr. Butler research has focused on how communication technologies influence interpersonal behavior. Her personal interests are diversity, cultural customs, cooking, and international business. Erika speaks English, Dutch, German, and French and she loves to go dancing with her husband.

Keith joined Executive Development Programs at The Eli Broad College of Business, Michigan State University, Lansing, on February 1, 2009. In this role, focusing on Customized and International programs he is working on whole program design, marketing and sales, teaching and support, continuous improvement and strategic geographic and portfolio development. He continues to teach and write.

Initially an English and a Masters Music graduate, Keith was involved in the media industry for the first twenty years of his career. He held senior executive and directing positions in the regional and national press, in radio and magazines. This part of his career enabled him to live in Hong Kong, the USA and Canada, Australia and Singapore and France. Whilst working in the media, Keith passed a post-graduate Masters degree in Management Studies, and a Masters degree in Marketing and Marketing Behavior and a further Masters degree in Marketing Strategy.

He joined BET, the Industrial Services conglomerate, in 1989, and was responsible for the strategy formulation, implementation and resulting development needs of their seventy companies’ worldwide. During this period he worked with the construction, oil and gas, hiring, out-sourcing, transport, manufacturing and cleaning industries in the Americas, Europe, Mid East, Australasian and Asian sub continents. Headquartered in Green Park, London he also had offices and accommodation in Delhi, India

Keith was appointed to the consulting faculty of the PA Management Development Practice at Sundridge Park Business School in August 1996. As a Managing Consultant, he utilized his skills in strategy, leadership, management, marketing and brand development techniques to develop programs, lecture and to consult with clients in the software, IT, telecom, building, oil and gas, banking, builder’s merchant, specialist retailing, transport, public agency, and manufacturing market sectors in UK, Europe, Asia, North and South America.

He was appointed to the Organizational Development Arena at Cranfield University School of Management in April 2001. He was Client Partner and Director for customers from the insurance, banking, trading, manufacturing, retail, IS/IT, telecom, and extractive industries. This work includes client business in the US, Canada, Gulf States, Australia, China, India, Russia, Turkey and most Euro countries. He directed designed and lectured a number of corporate client programs and taught on the Cranfield MBA and MSc Marketing, in strategy, marketing and sales strategy, supply chain strategy, sales techniques, key account management, leadership, negotiation skills, decision making and management skills. During his tenure at Cranfield he completed his Doctorate in Business Administration

Keith joined Thunderbird, the then Garvin School of International Management (now School of Global management) in Glendale, Arizona, in February 2005 as Assoc. VP, responsible for global partnerships, executive education, open program enrollment, online programs and Thunderbird consulting. He was also senior faculty, specializing in strategy, marketing strategy, integrated supply chain strategies, customer engagement strategy, sales strategy, key account management, negotiations, implementing and leading strategy and global mind set. His close client relationships were from the Oil and Gas, Information Systems, Information Technology, International Banking and Insurance and Global Manufacturing Sectors. He acquired much knowledge in relation to global management and mindset, global business, global business intelligence, entrepreneurship and marketing into overseas geographies. He left to join MSU in February 2009. He now resides in Okemos, Michigan USA.

Where is Michigan?

Where is MSU?
STATE OF MICHIGAN

The State of Great Lakes

Michigan is a mid-western U.S. state with a population of 10 million, bordering four of the five Great Lakes plus Lake Saint Clair, Lake Michigan, Lake Superior, Lake Huron, and Lake Erie Lake. It contains more than 11,000 inland lakes, spread across its lower and upper peninsulas. A person in the state is never more than six miles (9.7 km) from a natural water source or more than 85 miles (137 km) from a Great Lakes shoreline.

Michigan is the only state to consist of two peninsulas. The Lower Peninsula, to which the name Michigan was originally applied, is often noted to be shaped like a mitten. The Upper Peninsula (often referred to as "the U.P.") is separated from the Lower Peninsula by the Straits of Mackinac, a five-mile (8 km) channel that joins Lake Huron to Lake Michigan. The two peninsulas are connected by the Mackinac Bridge.

Michigan Industry

Though Michigan has come to develop a diverse economy, it is widely known as the center of the U.S. automotive industry, being home to the country's three major automobile companies, General Motor, Ford and Chrysler, whose headquarters are all within the Detroit metropolitan area. Detroit is the largest city in Michigan. While sparsely populated, the Upper Peninsula is economically important due to its status as a tourist destination as well as its abundance of natural resources, while the Lower Peninsula is a center of manufacturing, services, and high-tech industry. Products and services include automobiles, food products, information technology, aerospace, military equipment, furniture, and mining of copper and iron ore. Michigan is the third leading grower of Christmas trees with 60,520 acres (245 km²) of land dedicated to Christmas tree farming. The U.S. Economic Development Administration estimated Michigan's 2014 gross state product to be $417.306 billion, ranking 13th out of the 50 states.

密西根州的工业

虽然密西根州已经开始发展多元经济，但它被广泛地称为美国汽车工业的中心，是全国三大汽车公司，通用汽车，福特和克莱斯勒的总部，总部位于底特律大都市区。底特律是密西根州最大的城市。尽管人口稀少，上半岛由于其旅游目的地的地位以及丰富的自然资源，在经济上仍然是重要的，而下半岛是制造业，服务业和高新技术产业的中心。产品和服务包括汽车，食品，信息技术，航空航天，军事设备，家具和铜矿石采矿。密西根州是圣诞树的第三大领先种植者，拥有 60,520 英亩（245 平方公里）的圣诞树种植土地。美国经济发展局计算，密西根州的 2014 年总产值为 417.06 亿美元，在 50 个州中排名第 13。

Michigan Education and Research

As leading research institutions, the University of Michigan, Michigan State University, and Wayne State University are important partners in the state's economy and its University Research Corridor. Michigan's public universities attract more than $1.5 billion in research and development grants each year. The National Superconducting Cyclotron Laboratory is located at Michigan State University. Michigan's workforce is well-educated and highly skilled, making it attractive to companies. It has the third highest number of engineering graduates nationally. Michigan's schools and colleges rank among the nation's best.

密西根州的教育与科研

作为领先的研究机构，密西根大学，密西根州立大学和韦恩州立大学是国家经济和大学研究走廊的重要合作伙伴。密西根州的公立大学每年吸引超过 1.5 亿美元的研发资助。国家超导回旋加速器实验室位于密西根州立大学。密西根州的劳动力受过良好教育和高技能，吸引了很多企业。密西根州的工程专业毕业生人数在全国排名第三。密西根州的学校和学院排名在全国前列。

Michigan Agriculture

A wide variety of commodity crops, fruits, and vegetables are grown in Michigan, making it second only to California among U.S. states in the diversity of its agriculture. The state has 54,800 farms utilizing 10,000,000 acres (40,000 km²) of land which sold $6.49 billion worth of products in 2010. The most valuable agricultural product is milk. Leading crops include corn, soybeans, flowers, wheat, sugar beets and potatoes. Livestock in the state included 1 million cattle, 1 million hogs, 78,000 sheep and over 3 million chickens. Livestock products accounted for 38% of the value of agricultural products while crops accounted for the majority.

Michigan is a leading grower of fruit in the U.S., including blueberries, tart cherries, apples, grapes, and peaches. Plums, pears, and strawberries are also grown. These fruits are mainly grown in West Michigan due to the moderating effect of Lake Michigan on the climate.

Michigan produces wines, beers and a multitude of processed food products. Kellogg's cereal is based in Battle Creek, Michigan and processes many locally grown foods.

Michigan Tourism

Michigan's tourists spend $17.2 billion per year in the state, supporting 193,000 tourism jobs. It has more public golf courses, registered boats, and lighthouses than any other state. Michigan's tourism website ranks among the busiest in the nation. Destinations draw vacationers, hunters, and nature enthusiasts from across the United States and Canada. Michigan is fifty percent forest land, much of it quite remote. The forests, lakes and thousands of miles of beaches are top attractions. Event tourism draws large numbers to occasions like the Tulip Time Festival and the National Cherry Festival.
密西根州的旅游

密西根州的旅游业每年收入 172 亿美元，支持了 193,000 个旅游工作。它比任何其他州都有更多的公共高尔夫球场，注册船只和灯塔。密西根州的旅游网站是全国最繁忙的旅游网站之一。各景点吸引了来自美国和加拿大的度假者，猎人和自然爱好者。密西根州森林面积达到百分之五十，其中绝大部分地处偏远。森林，湖泊和数千英里的沙滩是最重要的景点。旅游活动在假期吸引了大量的游客，如郁金香时节和国家樱花节。

MICHIGAN STATE CAPITOL

The Michigan State Capitol is the building housing the legislative and executive branches of the government of the U.S. state of Michigan. It is located in the state capital of Lansing in Ingham County. The present structure, at the intersection of Capitol and Michigan Avenues, is a National Historic Landmark that currently houses the chambers and offices of the Michigan Legislature as well as the ceremonial offices of the Governor of Michigan and Lieutenant Governor. The first state capitol was located in Detroit, the original capital of Michigan, and was relocated to Lansing in 1847. The present capitol building was dedicated in January 1879 and rededicated in 1992 after a three-year restoration project.

CITY OF DETROIT

Detroit is the most populous city in the U.S. state of Michigan, the largest city on the United States–Canada border. The metropolitan area, known as Metro Detroit, is home to 4.3 million people, making it the second-largest in the Midwest after Chicago. Detroit is best known as the center of the American automobile industry, and the "Big Three" auto manufacturers General Motors, Ford, and Chrysler are all headquartered in Metro Detroit. With expansion of the auto industry in the early 20th century, the city and its suburbs experienced rapid growth, and by the 1940s, the city had become the fourth-largest in the country. However, due to industrial restructuring, the loss of jobs in the auto industry, and rapid suburbanization, Detroit lost considerable population from the late 20th century to the present. Since reaching a peak of 1.85 million at the 1950 census, Detroit's population has declined by more than 60 per cent. In 2013, Detroit became the largest U.S. city to file for bankruptcy, which it successfully exited in December 2014, when the city government regained control of Detroit's finances. Detroit emerged from bankruptcy from 2014, and a resurgence in manufacturing—while never to reach heyday heights—is seen as a major pathway to continued recovery. The federal bailout of GM and Chrysler helped bring the auto industry back from the brink, and today the Big Three U.S. automakers, including Ford and the foreign competitors that have built American factories, are thriving. This is good news for the supply chain producers, too, such as Prism Plastics. The Metro Detroit area has a rich musical history spanning the past century, beginning with the revival of... the world-renowned Detroit Symphony Orchestra in 1918. The major genres represented in Detroit music include Classical, Blues, Jazz, Gospel, R&B, Rock and roll, Pop, Punk, Soul, Electronica and Hip-hop. The Greater Detroit area has been the birthplace and primary venue for numerous Platinum-selling artists, whose total album sales, according to one estimate, had surpassed 40 million units by the year 2000.

Ford Motor Company is a US multinational automobile manufacturer headquartered in Dearborn, Michigan, Michigan. It was founded by Henry Ford, founded on June 16, 1903. The company sells Ford cars and commercial vehicles under the Ford brand, as well as most luxury cars under the Lincoln brand. Ford is the second largest carmaker in the United States (formerly General Motors), the world's fifth largest carmaker (behind Toyota, Volkswagen, Hyundai Kia and General Motors). Google
Google is an American multinational technology company that specializes in Internet-related services and products. These include online advertising technologies, search, cloud computing, software, and hardware. Google was founded in 1998 by Larry Page and Sergey Brin while they were Ph.D. students at Stanford University, in California. Google, known primarily for its Internet search engine, opened offices in Ann Arbor in 2006. The main local office works on AdWords, the keyword-based text ads that are displayed alongside Google searches. Google’s Sales teams work as consultative partners to support AdWords advertisers across North America both large and small. It helps drive marketing and advertising campaigns across multiple media platforms including Search, the Google Content Network, Mobile, and YouTube. The local offices are led by Mike Miller. Google staff also worked on a scanning project at the University of Michigan Libraries. Since 2008, Google's main Ann Arbor office has been located downtown in the McKinley Towne Centre, on East Liberty. In the spring of 2015, Google announced plans to build an Ann Arbor campus on the city's north side – 140,000 square feet of space on property owned by First Martin located at 2300 Traverwood Dr. – with an expected completion date of 2016. The company indicated that it also was attracted to Ann Arbor's entrepreneurial sector and young talent.

ZINGERMAN

Zingerman’s, or Zingerman’s Community of Businesses, is a gourmet food business group headquartered in Ann Arbor, Michigan, USA. The original business and current flagship operation is Zingerman’s Delicatessen. It was founded in 1982, by Paul Saginaw and Ari Weinzweig, and began serving non-kosher traditional European-Jewish delicatessen dishes and sandwiches. Starting from the original deli, Zingerman’s Community of Businesses (ZCoB) has expanded to nine Ann Arbor based businesses with over 500 total employees. The Zingerman’s Community of Businesses (ZCoB) is a family of ten businesses and reflects the novel strategy for business growth created by Zingerman’s Deli founders Paul Saginaw and Ari Weinzweig. Rather than replicating their deli through the franchise model, Paul and Ari instead chose to develop new, independent businesses, all rooted in local community that work together as one organization. Each business is operated by one or more managing partners who share ownership and put their particular expertise to work in the day to day running of their business. The idea for the ZCoB was laid out in Zingerman’s 2009 vision, written by Ari and Paul in 1994 and highlighted in Bo Burlingham’s 2003 article for Inc. Magazine, “The Coolest Small Company in America.” In 2006, the ZCoB managing partners began work on Zingerman’s 2020 vision. It was completed a year later and paints a picture of the ZCoB at the end of the next decade. Zingerman’s 2020 vision was featured in a New York Times article from June 2007, “The Corner Deli that Dared to Break Out of the Neighborhood.”Zingerman is featured for it’s online shopping system. Zingerman’s Mail Order sends extraordinary, traditionally made foods anywhere in America. Featuring hearth baked breads, handmade cheeses, varietal coffee, estate bottled olive oils and customized professional presents. Ed Behr, writing in The International Wine Cellar, referred to the company as "the most discriminating mail order selection of foods that I am aware of.”

Zingerman’s or Zingerman 的商业社区，是美国密歇根州安娜堡市的美食食品业务集团，目前的旗舰业务是 Zingerman 的熟食店。它成立于 1982 年，由 Paul Saginaw 和 Ari Weinzweig，做非传统的欧洲犹太熟食菜肴和三明治。从原来的熟食店开始，Zingerman 的商业社区（ZCoB）现在已经扩展到九个安娜堡的业务，拥有 500 多名员工。Zingerman 的商业社区（ZCoB）是家族企业，反映了创始人 Paul Saginaw 和 Ari Weinzweig 创造的创新业务增长战略。Paul 和 Ari 并不是通过特许经营模式运营他们的熟食店，而是选择开发新的独立企业，这些企业都植根于作为一个组织共同合作的当地社区，每个业务由一
